

Biography

Alison M. Gardyne

HR Legal Attorney, Intel Corporation

Over the past 15 years, Alison has focused her practice on employment counseling and litigation for a wide range of public and private technology companies in Silicon Valley. She is an HR Legal Attorney for Intel Corporation, the world's largest semiconductor company with over 80,000 employees world wide. Prior to joining Intel, Alison spent 5 years managing the global employment law function for Yahoo! Inc., a leading internet company. As an attorney with several San Francisco law firms, Alison advised technology companies on various issues including wage and hour compliance, employee privacy, data security, harassment and discrimination. Prior to attending law school, Ms. Gardyne worked as a Human Resources professional for several years.

Ms. Gardyne received her JD from Northeastern University School of Law in 1993 and a BA in Economics and Sociology from Tufts University in 1986.