

Giuliano Chicco
Website Editor/Practice Support Attorney
Johnson & Johnson

Giuliano Chicco has worked with legal information, technology and lawyers for over thirty years. At Johnson & Johnson he is part of the Center for Legal and Credo Awareness, a group within the Law Department that uses technology proactively to educate and inform employees about legal, ethical and Credo issues. He is also responsible for the Law Department Knowledge Management initiative. Prior to Johnson & Johnson he was associated with various law firms and corporate legal departments including Monsanto, General Electric, Kramer Levin Naftalis & Frankel, and Cravath, Swaine & Moore where he was an early adopter of information technology. He has taught and speaks and writes regularly about technology, knowledge management and the law. He is a long time member of ACC and participates in several law and technology special interest groups.