

KEN GROSSERODE

Ken Grosserode is the Director of e-Learning and Content Development for WeComply, Inc., a leading online compliance training company. He has been an attorney since 1995 and has been with WeComply since 2003. Before joining WeComply, Ken served two years in the U.S. Department of Justice through the Attorney General's Honor Program. He went on to write proposed opinions for the Board of Immigration Appeals and later practiced at Berry, Appleman & Leiden LLP in San Francisco. At WeComply, Ken uses his legal training and background to develop, edit and customize the content for e-learning courseware and related compliance training resources.
