

Robert Marc Manley

Robert Manley is a Principal in the Dallas office of McKool Smith whose practice deals with complex business and intellectual property litigation. Mr. Manley was twice named to the list of "Best Lawyers Under 40," by D Magazine and has since been repeatedly named a "Texas Super Lawyer" by Texas Monthly Magazine. Mr. Manley serves as an adjunct professor of trial advocacy at SMU Law School and serves on the faculties of the Southern and Gulf Coast Regional NITA programs. He founded and chairs the McKool Smith Pro Bono Criminal Trial Program, which provides criminal jury trial counsel to the underprivileged, and he prosecuted cases at the Dallas District Attorney's Office in 2000.

Mr. Manley graduated from SMU Law School in 1993, attended graduate school at the Pushkin Institute in Moscow, Russia in 1990 and received his undergraduate degree from the University of Tulsa in 1989.

He lives in Dallas, Texas with his wife Dana and their son, Ford, and daughter, Greer.