

Cheryl H. Agris

Cheryl H. Agris, Ph.D., is currently in private practice in Pelham, N.Y., and is admitted to the bars of New York and New Jersey, as well as being admitted to practice before the USPTO. Dr. Agris received a B.A. from Goucher College in Chemistry, a Ph.D. in Biochemistry from the Johns Hopkins University and a J.D. from Brooklyn Law School. She has considerable experience in intellectual property practice and previously worked as an attorney in the legal department of Novo Nordisk Pharmaceuticals, Inc., at their U.S. offices and as a Patent Agent at Pennie and Edmonds. A former board member of the National Association of Patent Practitioners, Dr. Agris has spoken at major conferences, including BIO, which attracts in excess of 4,000 attendees on patent practice matters. She is the principal author of the Practitioner's Manual of Patent Examining Procedure, an annotated MPEP, published by Thomson-Reuters and has been a frequent lecturer for several CLE programs on Patent Law and Practice. Additionally, Dr. Agris acts as an arbitrator and mediator in intellectual property matters.

Mark Medice

Mark Medice is a National Brand Manager with West's Business of Law. In his role, Mark leads efforts with Peer and IP Monitor, assisting law firms with IP intelligence and strategy. Mark is a licensed intellectual property attorney, having worked at IBM, Procter & Gamble, and as an associate at Morgan Lewis. Mark holds an MBA from the University of Pittsburgh, and a J.D. from Northern Kentucky University.